

Representative Stephanie Clayton

Citizens' Privacy in a Media-Filled World

Stephanie Clayton represents Johnson County's District 19 in the Kansas House of Representatives. She was first elected to the House in 2012 and her current term expires in 2018.

Stephanie is a tireless advocate for government transparency and accountability. Because she believes that an informed citizenry is vital to a healthy democracy, Stephanie introduced a bill to require live broadcasting of legislative proceedings. She continued fighting for the bill even after encountering stiff opposition from colleagues.

In April, Stephanie introduced legislation to the Kansas House intended to protect consumers' privacy. The bill was written as a reaction to President Trump's signing of the repeal of broadband privacy regulations. See this Kansas City Star article for more details: <http://bit.ly/2tiqXBB>.
