"We are pleased to be able to help these 51 schools improve physical safety and digital library services to their students and to their faculty and staff. A vibrant library is vital to any school community."

—Laura DeBaun, former NEKLS Director

Grant Feedback Highlights

Print Materials/Social-Emotional Learning

I ordered titles that would offer a sense of support, safety and security students need to feel comfortable coming back to school during the pandemic. I chose books with strong characters, showing perseverance and other solid traits.

-elementary school librarian, Spring Hill USD 230

Safety

We purchased a number of flexible/outdoor seating for classes to take outside (and) to socially distance inside. Students often prefer these chairs to traditional. The flexible seating will continue to be used for years.

-high school librarian, Santa Fe Trail USD 434

One of our primary goals this year has been to keep students and staff safe. And another goal is to get students reading again and back to using the library. This grant has allowed us to reinvent how we serve students. It has helped us to get books in the hands of our students, and do that safely.

-high school librarian, Spring Hill USD 230

With the funds, I was able to support our students and staff during a pandemic, with books that promote discussion and sharing of feelings. I feel that I was able to keep books circulating and students safely distanced while in the library. The library did not close its doors! The grant funds allowed us to safely serve the school community in this pandemic.

-elementary school librarian, Turner USD 202

E-Content

Strengthening our digital platforms and providing a broader scope of electronic resources enabled both in-building and remote students to access a wider variety of needed materials.

-middle and high school library aide, Ottawa USD 290

Being able to expand the ebook collection was a positive. Having a grant made it easier to get what was needed to make myself, teachers, and students safer during the pandemic.

-middle school librarian, Shawnee Mission USD 512
