Nominee Information

Ashley Creek is the Director of the Keleher Learning Commons at the University of Saint Mary in Leavenworth, Kansas. She received her MLIS from the University of Kentucky in 2009 following a Bachelor of Arts from Westminster College in Fulton, Missouri. Her current research interests focus on active learning, co-curricular assessment, and the library as the center of the academic community. Ashley has served on the KLA and CULS Nominating Committees and was proud to represent Kansas at the Mountain Plains Library Association's Leadership Institute in 2016.

Cindy Davis was raised with a love of reading and relished visiting the local libraries in Fort Scott and Girard, KS. The tiny school libraries are also fondly remembered. She received an Associate of Arts degree from Fort Scott Community College, attended Wichita State University, and completed her Bachelor of Science degree at Pittsburg State University. She has held several types of jobs since graduation from PSU. Retail, banking, and administrative work at Fort Scott Community College. Working with students at FSCC, Cindy realized she wanted to teach students how to research the information they needed to succeed. She returned to school at Emporia State University in August of 2016; academic librarianship was her focus, and her goal was to work in a community college. Cindy graduated in August of 2018 with her MLS. Highland Community College hired her in February 2018 as their Director of the Library.

Jack Granath has served as the director of the Bonner Springs City Library since 2014. Before that he worked at the Kansas City, Kansas Public Library from 2002 to 2014 in the roles of Audio-Visual Associate, Reference Librarian, and Branch Manager. He managed the Argentine Branch Library during the building of and transition to the South Branch Library, which he then managed after its completion. He has a B.A. in English and Film/Video from the University of Michigan and an M.A. in Library Science from the University of Missouri.

Sean Stacey is the Carnegie Library Director of the Mabee Library at Washburn University in Topeka, KS. He received his Master of Library Science from Emporia State University, his Master of Arts from the University of Kansas and his Bachelor of General Studies from the University of Kansas.

David Tyler worked 39 years in distribution facilities the last being the Walmart facility in Ottawa. He has been on the Board of Trustees in Ottawa for 9 years and President for the last 2 years of his term. As busy as his mother was she made time to take David to the Carnegie Library in their home town, which resulted in his life-long love of reading and books.
